

Local Government's Cooperation Policies

Local government pursues public policies. For the administration of public policies utilizes staff, which is part of the Internal Services Organization. But, the nature of the cases on the one hand, and administrative weaknesses on the other, lead the local government to deal with third parties. The subject of the course is the process of assigning public policies to third parties, in accordance with Greek and European legislation and jurisprudence.